

Joachim Krueger

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT CORPORATE SUSTAINABILITY AND REGULATORY AFFAIRS

Dr. Joachim Krueger is Senior Vice-President, Corporate Sustainability and Regulatory Affairs, a position he took up in 2010, with direct reporting line to the Executive Committee of Clariant.

Prior to this assignment he worked for 3.5 years with the European Chemical Industry Council Cefic as Executive Director.

Joachim Krueger's previous experience includes 10 years with Celanese Corporation. Before being named as Vice President Global Shared Services EHS (Germany/USA), he held various positions in Celanese; among others, Director Environmental, Health and Safety Affairs (USA) and Director Research and Technology (Germany).

He is a member of several trade associations in Europe and North America. He also serves as Clariant's point of contact for international organizations and non-governmental organizations.

Before starting his career in Hoechst AG, Frankfurt, Joachim F. Krueger obtained his diploma in chemistry in 1981. He is a German national and is based in Pratteln, Switzerland. He is married and has one daughter.